A

Joe was a 75-year-old man. He lived very happily with his happy family. His children grew up and moved to different cities. He lived in a small village by himself. Joe had 4 grandchildren and they used to visit him during their holidays.

It was the vacation time and Joe was waiting for his grandchildren to arrive. He was buying the favorite food and cleaning the home for the kids. However, he lost his favorite watch when he was busy. His dead wife gave it to him when their first child was born.

The next day, he was very sad and said, "Dear children, I lost the most important watch I have ever had. Your grandma gave it to me. I feel like I'm missing my heart."

The children looked for the watch everywhere in the home for more than 2 hours, but could not find it. Joe asked the children to stop looking for it as they could not find anything.

One grandson sat there quietly. The other children reached him and asked him what he was doing. He asked them not to make noise. He sat there for about 15 minutes and then ran to his grandfather. He got the watch and happily gave it to Joe.

Joe was surprised and asked how he was able to find it. The little boy answered ,"I sat there without making a noise. After a few minutes, I heard the sound of the watch."

B

Have you noticed the waste bins（垃圾桶）in different colors on the street? Do you often put all the waste in the same bin? It's reported by Changchun Daily that people must do waste sorting（分类）in most places in Changchun at the end of 2019. Waste sorting is a wonderful way to make good use of energy（能源）and protect the environment（环境）. But do you know how to sort the waste?

Usually, people should sort their waste into four groups: wet, recyclable, harmful and dry. Different kinds of waste should go into different bins. Wet waste means the things you don't want but pigs can eat, mostly coming from your kitchen. Things that can be used again, such as paper, metal and glass, are recyclable waste. Harmful waste might be dangerous or cause serious pollution, like medicine and batteries（电池）. And the waste that's not wet, recyclable or harmful will go into the dry waste bin.

Different countries are trying different methods to sort the waste. A university in England has invented a smart bin. When people drop their waste into the bin, it can tell what kind of waste it is and sort it correctly. The bin can also compress（压缩）the waste to make it smaller in size and take up less space. In South Korea, people have to separate（分开）their food waste from other kinds of waste and pay for it. The more food waste they throw away, the more they pay. Japan has the strictest rules for waste sorting in the world. For example, plastic bottles and their caps should go into different bins.

- () 61. When must people do waste sorting in most places in Changchun? _____.
- A. At the end of 2018
- B. At the beginning of 2018
- C. At the end of 2019
- D. At the beginning of 2019
- () 62. According to the second paragraph（第二段）, how many groups should people sort their waste into?
- A. Five
- B. Four

- C. Three
- D. Two

- () 63. Which of the following should go into the harmful waste bin? _____ .
- A. Glass
- B. Metal
- C. Paper
- D. Medicine
- () 64. Which of the following is true according to the passage? _____
- A. The waste bin can tell what kind of waste it and sort it correctly in Changchun.
- B. Plastic bottles and their caps should go into different bins in Japan.
- C. In England, the more food waste people throw away, the more they pay.
- D. Any waste that's not wet, recyclable or harmful will go into the dry waste bin in North Korea.
- () 65. What can you learn from the passage? _____
- A. Changchun has the strictest rules for waste sorting in the world.
- B. All the countries around the world are doing waste sorting these days.
- C. Waste sorting can help make the earth a better place for people to live on.
- D. People in South Korea have to pay for the harmful waste they throw away.

C

Mobile phones are now very popular among middle school students. However, different people have different opinions about whether or not middle school students should have mobile phones.

"The great thing about my kids having mobile phones is that I can keep in touch with them,"said William, a parent of two teenagers.

"A teenager feels lost without a phone. If my daughters behave badly, I confiscate（没收） their phones and their behaviour quickly improves,"said Kiera, the mother of 15-year-old twins.

"My mum is afraid that I'm going to lose my phone or that someone is going to steal it. She won't buy me the really cool phone that I want. I've got this rubbish one that doesn't do much. I'm so sad that everyone else has a smart phone while I don't,"said Sam, a 14-year-old boy.

Mobile phones are allowed at school in the UK but pupils are not allowed（允许、许可）to use them in class and they must be silent during lessons. Teachers can take away phones if these rules are broken. School students can use their phones at break time, at lunchtime and after school. Some teachers in British schools complain (抱怨) that pupils don't always follow the rules and that lessons are disrupted (打断) by students using mobile phones in class.

- () 66. William wants his kids to have mobile phones because _____.
 A. they show that his family is rich enough
 B. he worries about his children at school
 C. his children can make calls to his friends at school
 D. he can keep in touch with his kids easily

Charles Darwin was born on February 12, 1809. His father was a well-known doctor and the son of a still greater doctor. Charles' father hoped that he would also become a doctor.

As a boy, Charles liked to go for walks in the fields and forests. He wanted to explore nature and compared what he saw with everything he had read in books. He also liked collecting very much. His father did not like this as Charles was not studying very well at school.

In order for him to be a doctor, he was sent to the University of Edinburgh when he was 16 years old. But he was interested in the history of nature. Then he studied at Cambridge University until 1831.

Some time later, he heard that the ship Beagle was going on a trip to South America. His teacher advised him to go. He said the trip would be just for Darwin. During the trip, Darwin saw many new plants and animals. He collected all kinds of plants.

In 1842, Darwin went to live in Kent, where he continued his studies of the changes in nature. Darwin understood that plants and animals are not always the same, and that they really change.

By 1859, Darwin had finished his famous book On the Origin of Species (《物种起源》). It made a great hit in the world of scientists. He was opposed (反对) by some scientists. But later, more and more scientists agreed with him. Darwin continued his studies in science until he died in 1882.

2021 年第七届鹏程杯英语邀请赛（决赛）参考答案

六年级组

第一部分 听力材料

一、听句子，从所给图片中选出与听到的内容相同或近似的情境，每小题读两遍。

1. The children did some volunteer work yesterday. They helped old people cross the street.
2. My vacation in Europe is great. Most of all, the most unforgettable city is Paris in France.
3. He is an hour late. Because his bicycle is broken down on the way.
4. Trick or treat! Trick or treat! It's a popular game for children at Halloween.
5. He enjoys listening to the music in his free time. Rock music is his favourite.

二、信息获取。

听三段对话和一段独白。每段对话或独白后有 2—3 个问题，从题中所给的 A、B、C 三个选项中选出最佳选项回答问题，听每段对话或独白前你都将有 30 秒钟的时间阅读各小题。每段对话或独白读两遍。

请听第 1 段对话，回答第 6 至第 7 小题。

W: Sandwich or orange pie?

M: Neither. Salad is good for me.

W: OK. Here's the lunch box.

M: Oh, is that the White House over there?

W: Yes, it's the place where the President of the US and his family live.

M: What else do you know about it?

W: Sorry, I don't know.

请听第 2 段对话，回答第 8 至第 9 小题。

M: We have just moved into a new house.

W: Really? Congratulations!

M: Thank you. And we want to buy a new television.

W: What kind of television do you want to buy?

M: A color TV, of course. But I'm not sure about the size. Maybe we should buy a bigger one. What's your opinion?

W: In my opinion, I don't think it's necessary for you to buy a very big one. As I know, your sitting room isn't big enough. If you put a very big television there, that will be bad for your eyes.

M: Hmm, that's quite true. I'll think about it.

请听第 3 段对话，回答第 10 至第 12 小题。

W: Hello.

M: Hello, Alice. This is David speaking.

W: Oh, it's you. How nice to hear your voice! Are you calling from New York?

M: No, I'm calling from Los Angeles.

I flew here on business with your sister Jane and we want to visit you in San Francisco next week.

W: I'm glad to hear it. Are you coming by train or by bus?

M: We'll take a bus since it's not too far away.

W: Good. How does Jane feel about coming to San Francisco? I know this will be her first visit to the city.

M: She is very excited about it.

W: Me, too. I haven't seen her for quite a long time.

M: Right. It's a long time since you moved there.

W: I hope to see you soon.

请听下面独白，回答第 13 至第 15 小题。

Hello everyone. My name's Sinead and I'd like to welcome you to the Study Centre.

First, let me introduce what you can do here. The Study Centre is a place where you can come and sit and do your homework. As you can see, we've got books and some computers here. You can use them to study more. There are some rules here. For example, we do ask you to be quiet so that people can get on with their work. You can borrow not more than six books or one CD at a time. The centre opens at lunchtime and after school from Monday to Friday until 8:00. At the weekend, it opens from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00p. m. That's all. Has anyone got any other questions?

三. 听对话，选择正确答案，完成下列表格。对话读三遍。

W: Hi, Kangkang! What do you usually do in your free time?

M: I usually listen to music.

W: What kind of music do you like?

M: I used to like pop music, but now I like folk music.

W: What about classical music?

M: I don't like it at all. It's too serious. And you, Jane?

W: I like jazz best, but I enjoyed country music some years ago. I hate listening to rock music because it's too noisy.

M: Different people have different interests.

W: That's right
